

Anxiety Management

Anxiety is a normal response to stress, but it can become overwhelming when it interferes with daily activities.

Symptoms

- Excessive worry
- Restlessness
- Racing thoughts
- Increased heart rate

Techniques

- Deep breathing exercises
- Grounding techniques such as the 5-4-3-2-1 method
- Journaling thoughts
- Talking to trusted friends or family

When to Seek Help

If anxiety becomes persistent or significantly affects daily functioning, seek support from a qualified mental health professional.
